SUBJECT: Reopening of the Search for the Head of School of BU Academy

In January 2019, I announced the reopening of the Boston University Academy (BUA) Search Advisory Committee, charged with identifying potential candidates to serve as the new Head of School.

As I stated at the time, the selection of a Head of School is among the most important decisions we make as we advance the goals and unique opportunities of BUA. Thus it is essential that we get this right. We are therefore conducting a new search and will engage a new set of candidates. Our objective is to have a new permanent Head of School by the summer of 2020. We remain committed to selecting a candidate whom we believe will provide outstanding long-term leadership for the Academy.

I would like to thank Norman Blanchard, Director of Course Planning in the Questrom School of Business and a past BU Academy parent, for agreeing to serve as Chair of the Committee. A list of the committee's membership is below.

The advisory committee will work in collaboration with the search firm, Carney, Sandoe & Associates to recruit candidates with a strong record of leadership and experience. Together they will solicit new nominations, assess the qualifications and strengths of nominees and applicants, and finally recommend candidates for the position to me. Ideally the committee will conclude its work and submit its recommendations of 3-5 outstanding candidates to me by July 1, 2019. I would like to thank the members of the Search Advisory Committee in advance for their time and dedication to this important effort over the next few months. I would also like to thank Dr. Rosemary White for agreeing to continue to serve as Interim Head of School, and the BU Academy community for your contributions during this important time.
